In keeping with this is the testimony from San Francisco. I quote from an editorial in the San Francisco Chronicle of May 5: "San Francisco means least important—disco comes that of THERAPION. for the past fortnight has been absolutely free from disorder, and virtually free from crimes of violence. There have been no street brawls. No drunken brute has beaten his wife. No gamblers have murdered each other in ow resorts. This absolute demonstration that the saloons are responsible for all crimes of violence makes it imperative that are responsible they will have to support a good deal more than the city police department. The county and the lice department. The county and the beeles below state should also have their innings. Even then the community is greatly the loser. A thrifty, healthy, virtuous citizen is of incomparably greater value than one who is poverty-stricken,

THE DRINKER'S FAMILY.

Well, how about the drinker's famly? We can afford to sacrifice the drinker for the larger circle of his home provided it is served. Can the agent for the liquor traffic lay claim to being worthy of honor at this point? Hardly. Conditions in no home are thereby improved. The tendencies are all in the other direction. The children begotten by the inebriate inherit impaired powers physically, mentally and morally. They help to populate the asylums of various kinds. Again, the inmates of the inebriate's home are too often the recipients of abuse. And not only that, they are deprived of food, clothing, shelter, the luxuries of life, and improved educational facilities which but for drink might be provided them. These things which are legiti mately theirs are denied them that an unholy appetite may be satisfied and that the agents of the liquor traffic may fatten. Besides this they have to endure the shame which comes to sensitive souls with the consciousness of belonging to a drunkard's family. Should not these children, these help less little ones, be protected? Their prospects for the future are injured and their happiness for the present blighted. This preparation is unquestionably one of the most genuine and reliable Patent Medicines ever introduced, and has, we understand, been used in the Continental Hospitals by Ricord, Rostan, Jobert, Velpeau, Maisonneuve, the well-known Chassaignac, and indeed by all who are regarded as authorities in such matters, in-cluding the celebrated Lallemand, and Roux, by whom it was some time since uniformly adopted, and that it is worthy the attention of those who require such a remedy we think there is no doubt.
